Park Description

Bryn Awel Caravan Park is found in the village of Pentraeth on the Isle of Anglesey in North Wales. The park is situated just above Red Wharf Bay, an area famous for outstanding views and beaches, meaning a trip to the seaside is only minutes away.

The park is situated near one of Anglesey's best beaches, Red Wharf Bay. Here you can spend your summer days relaxing on the beach, taking in the sea air then dining out in some of the most prestigious restaurants on the island. Other beaches of the island such as Benllech and Moelfre are only a short drive away, so you can spend each day at a different beach, taking in the spectacular natural beauty of the island.
