Local Area Information

Well maintained small family site on the Llyn Peninsula, 5 miles from the popular village of Abersoch

Abersoch is situated on the Llyn Peninsula in North Wales and has become a very popular village seaside resort. Great beaches, internationally recognised sailing waters, pleasant climate and beautiful scenery, all set in the heartland of the Welsh language provide a special combination.

The Llyn Peninsula is one of Wales finest beauty spots. The Llyn Peninsula (the Llyn) is usually defined as the strip of land which is South West of the A487 which runs from Caernarfon to Porthmadog.

For most of its length it is only 8 miles wide. Much of the coastline is National Trust maintained. The Welsh name for this area is Pen Llŷn. The spelling of Llŷn often changes to Llyn which is probably more correct for English, but the former spelling is more commonly used locally.
