Park Description

Ddol Hir Caravan Park can be found on the banks of the River Ceiriog in the small Welsh town of Llangollen, on the edge of the Berwyn mountain range. The park is a peaceful, get away from it all Holiday Park, perfect if you're after a quiet retreat to unwind and relax.

Llangollen is an amazing part of North Wales, hidden with many natural wonders which truly make this town one of a kind. The town is enclosed by a stunning mountain range which stretches for miles, making it perfect for walkers, or those who wish to take their dogs on an exciting adventure, witnessing spectacular scenery first hand. Llangollen is also home to white water Rivers such as the wonderful River Dee, where you will find horse drawn boats in the canal. The Llangollen Steam Railway is also not to be missed, operating on a ten mile stretch between Llangollen and Corwen, the perfect way to witness the stunning natural views of this area. The steam railway is volunteer run and is the longest persevered standard steam gauge railway in Wales, making your visit there extra special.
