Park Description

Rhinog Park is a holiday park situated on the west coast of Wales between the coastal towns of Harlech and Barmouth. Surrounded by spectacular natural scenery, Rhinog Park is the perfect base to explore the rest of North Wales, from the stunning coastline of the Llyn Peninsula to the Snowdonia National Park. From the park Porthmadog, Dolgellau and Port Merion are all within easy reach, putting some of the best parts of Wales directly on your doorstep. The park is beautifully landscaped, creating a haven of peace and tranquillity. The perfect choice of park if you're looking to escape from reality and delve into a sanctuary of relaxation. The park is recognised as a Wales in Bloom award winning park, putting emphasis on creating a space for you to enjoy each time you holiday here.

Rhinog Park acts as an excellent base to explore the wonders of North Wales. There are plenty of attractions to visit, you will never find yourself running out of things to do. From visiting the Rhinog Nature Reserve, in the mountains near Harlech you'll find this broad expanse of upland heath, particularly important for preserving the birdlife of the area. There is also the Italian style village of Port Merion a short distance from the park, which offers excellent scenery, restaurants and shopping facilities. Harlech and Criccieth Castle are also within close reach from the park, where you can learn more about Welsh history and how it has shaped Wales to be the country it is today.
